THE SPOILERS, GREAT SUCCESS AT LOWELL

"Splendid" does not fully express the delightful presentation of "The Spoilers" at the Lowell theatre.

It is really great. Those who do not go to see "The Spoilers," the most famous of Rex Beach stories, will miss a real treat. The part of Glenister, the hero, is played by William Farnum, one of the best actors on the stage here. The hard won battle he has with McNamara, the crook, and with naked hands, is intensely thrilling and well worth seeing.

Then there is Cherry Malotte. One cannot help wishing her greater reward for the many heroic ventures and sacrifices she makes. And Slap-Jack would make anyone laugh.

The play is given in its entirety and whether one has read this great story of Alaska mining camp adventures or not, does not matter. It is complete on the screen and immensely interesting.

Owing to urgent demand and numerous requests for repetition of the performance, Manager Frazier offers a special matinee this afternoon at 2:15. Fans are presented at the door and patrons are made comfortable in this cozy theatre. Don't miss "The Spoilers" this afternoon at the Lowell.

Last night packed houses at the Orpheum saw the advance introduction pictures, bringing on the screen some of the leading actors, famous on the American stage, who take part in the Million Dollar Mystery, the powerful serial picture story now running in all the large cities and exciting the most intense interest and the largest comment of any picture story ever put before the public. The first presentation of a number of the Million Dollar Mystery will be made at the Orpheum the end of this week. A $10,000 cash prize is offered for the correct solution of this picture. The big prize is being striven for all over the country. Not a few Bisbee people will doubtless enter into the competition. Interest here will be further added to by a cash prize which the Orpheum management will offer locally, probably of $25 or $50.

"NO CAUSE FOR ALARM OVER SMALL POX," SAYS THE CITY PHYSICIAN

Regardless of all rumors to the contrary the likelihood of a small pox epidemic in the Warren district is small.

The above was the statement made last night by Dr. Herendeen, city health officer. The physician has taken the two cases which developed in the city and isolated them in the pest house east of Lowell.

He considers that there is little danger of the disease spreading. In cases where people have been exposed according to Dr. Herendeen they have been vaccinated and the number is rather large accordingly.

The sanitary conditions of Bisbee, declared Dr. Herendeen, would prevent the spreading of small pox. They are comparatively good and seem to be very light and do not indicate that the malady has taken the virulent form.

Have you seen that new big baby? H. P.

ONE KILLED WHEN ROCK FALLS FROM ROOF OF WORKING

While resting during the lunch hour last night on the fifteen hundred level of the Junction mine, Eric Kaufman was instantly killed by a fall of rock from the roof of the working. Hoss Somach the other man in the working was alongside of Kaufman when the rock fell but was practically uninjured.

The accident occurred during the lunch hour. Kaufman and his helper had been drilling before lunch. After eating their repeat they laid down in the drift on a piece of board and were waiting the time to go back to work. The working where the two men were, was well timbered and little thought of a possible fall was experienced.

Suddenly a good sized rock, fell out of the roof of the drift and striking the timber broke it, falling upon the form of Kaufman, killing him instantly.

Coroner Smith was immediately notified and he summoned a jury. The inquest will, undoubtedly, be held the first part of the week. Little is known of the deceased, not even his residence was determined last evening. His companion, in the drift at the time of the accident, was somewhat scratched but otherwise did not seem to be hurt in the least.

THREE ADDITIONS ARE MADE TO WHITE LIST OF CITY'S DAIRYMEN

There have been three additions to the white list of dairies since the publication of the first list. Those added, since the last test was made, are: The Huachuca Mountain Dairy, the Naco Dairy and the Osborn Dairy. According to the city health officer there are but few dairies now operating in the district and city which have not brought their product up to the standard as set by law. He considers that with the testing of an other sample these will also be able to be placed upon the white list and the condition which prevailed here some time ago will have been completely eliminated.

The agitation for better milk came about some weeks ago through the activity of the city physician and the state bacteriologist. These officials secured samples of milk from every dairy doing business in the city and had them analyzed in the state laboratory in Tucson.

Here it was shown that not a single sample came up to statutory requirements. Publicity was immediately invoked and soon afterward a second sample was taken and sent to Tucson. The second analysis showed a distinct improvement all along the line and soon afterward Dr. Herendeen published his white list.

The latest additions to this would indicate that all of the dairymen operating in the city were complying with the laws and would maintain the products up to that standard from now on.

Women Worth While

The most interesting women in official life in Washington during the present season, are, naturally enough, those who are newcomers at the capital. At the beginning of President Wilson's administration, society turned a curious eye upon these newcomers, and their personalities, their interests, and their entertainments are still matters of absorbing interest to other women.

Mrs. Joseph E. Davies, wife of the commissioner of corporations, is one of the most popular women whom the new administration has brought to Washington. Mr. and Mrs. Davies were guests at the Wilson cottage at Goy. Wilson was formally notified of his nomination for the presidency by the Democratic party. Mrs. Davies is a close friend of Miss Margaret Wilson, who visited her for three weeks at her home in Wisconsin last year, and frequently drops in for an hour in Washington. A common interest in philanthropic matters, and love of music, are bonds of friendship between two women.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Davies was a Civil war veteran, Colonel John H. Knight, of Bayfield, Wisconsin. She was educated in private schools, and before she made her debut attended a finishing school in Philadelphia. It was while on a visit to friends who lived near the University of Wisconsin that Mrs. Davies first met her husband, then a student at the institution. Their engagement soon followed, and after Mr. Davies was graduated and established in his profession they were married at Ashland, Wisconsin.

Mrs. Davies' popularity at the capital may be attributed both to a highly cultivated and attractive personality, and to the fact with which she has entered into life about her. She entered upon her social duties in Washington with an evident enjoyment in their fulfillment that made her from the first sought after both as business and guest. Also she consented to become a member of the board of managers of Neighborhood House settlement, and not only lends her name and influence but her active services to the work.

Mrs. Davies is fond of society, and has found that of the capital particularly interesting and delightful. Her interest centers, however, in the training and education of her little daughters. Their names are Eleanor and Rachel, the latter being Welsh for Rachel, and a name handed down the centuries by Mr. Davies' ancestors, who were Welsh.

TO SAVE EYES

Is the Object of This Free Prescription—Try it if Your Eyes Give You Trouble.

Thousands of people suffer from eye troubles because they do not know what to do. They know some good home remedy for every other minor ailment, but none for their eye troubles. They neglect their eyes, because of the trouble is not sufficient to drive them to an eye specialist, who would, anyway, charge them a heavy fee. As a last resort they go to an optician or to the five and ten-cent store, and oftentimes get glasses that they do not need, or which, after being used two or three months, do their eyes more injury than good. Here is a simple prescription that every one should use:

5 grains Optons (1 tablet).

2 ounces water.

Use three or four times a day to bathe the eyes. This prescription and the simple Optons system keeps the eyes clean, sharpens the vision and quickly overcomes inflammation and irritation; weak, watery, overworked, tired eyes and other similar troubles are greatly benefited and oftentimes cured by its use. Many reports show that wearers of glasses have discarded them after a few weeks' use. It is good for the eyes and contains no ingredient which would injure the most sensitive eyes of an infant or the aged. The Bisbee Drug Co. or any druggist can fill this prescription promptly. Try it and know for once what real eye comfort is.—Adv.
